

EXPLORING TWO FACES OF ILLINOIS HISTORY

A Conversation with Territorial Governor Ninian Edwards and Pottawatomie Chief Gomo

Spend an hour with two of the most pivotal and dynamic personalities in Illinois History as portrayed by Brian "Fox" Ellis. Much of the text for this program is taken directly from the speeches these two men delivered to each other at Cahokia as they squared off to determine the future of this region. Storyteller, Brian "Fox" Ellis steps into each of their shoes to bring to life a controversial story in this vital moment in the birthing of Illinois.

This program explores American History unvarnished and promises to inspire a lively discussion!

Funded by the Humanities Illinois and the Forgotten Illinois Grant